Several people commenting on the much-needed moisture we received. I'm just wishing it could have been 20 degrees warmer. I'm guessing it is a great start on replenishing some much-needed subsoil moisture. The calendar is becoming our friend with longer days & hopefully some warmer temps. Grass will be here before we know it! As always best of luck to you all calving. Be Safe!!

FED CATTLE/WEIGH COWS TUESDAY, MARCH 9TH:

Tuesday's Fed cattle trade was $1-2 lower. Hopefully as we trend through April our carcass weights will start to taper off. We somehow have to wrestle all this leverage away from the packers. If that happens, we might see a significantly better market. We had a large run of weigh cows and that market continues to underperform. We should work through peak numbers soon. It's a market that has so much upside potential!! Unfortunately, there are way to many people in our industry that think we need a cheap ground beef policy that mindset is complete nonsense!!
